Fund Objective

The Growth model aims to achieve a return of inflation + 2.75% p.a. on a rolling seven-year basis. Since inception in July 2012, a notional investment of $10,000 would now be worth $19,090.

Performance Review

	3 Months %	1 Year %	3 Years %	5 Years %
Net return	7.73	7.62	7.69	7.54
Objective (CPI + 2.75%)	0.69	4.08	4.54	4.35
Standard deviation			5.19	6.41
Standard deviation – ASX 300 index			9.25	11.03

Net return is shown after investment fees and costs but before administration fees. Standard Deviation is a historical measure of the degree to which the portfolio's returns varied over time. The higher the standard deviation, the greater the likelihood that a portfolio's performance will fluctuate and exhibit volatility. Lower standard deviations indicate that the historical returns have been less volatile.

Growth of $10,000

Fund Commentary

The Growth model returned 7.73% over the March quarter, beating its objective and recouping losses associated with market turmoil during the previous quarter.

The previous quarter (December 2018) was one of the worst in years for equity markets. However, Australian equities rebounded in January. Positive half year earnings from several stocks saw this rebound accelerate into February. Global equities also had a positive quarter. Despite tensions and uncertainty remaining over several issues (US/China trade, Brexit, EU/Italy relations) the markets took a benign view of Chinese stimulus and US interest rate expectations.

Globally, bond yields fell as the US Federal Reserve indicated it did not expect to increase interest rates for the remainder of 2019. Australian bond yields also fell, with the fixed interest component of all IFS models contributing meaningful returns.
